ASL NEWSLETTER

JANUARY 2001

- In Memoriam: Willard van Orman Quine. Willard van Orman Quine, one of the most significant philosopher-logicians of his time, died December 25, 2000 at the age of 92. He was Edgar Pierce Professor of Philosophy, Emeritus, at Harvard University and was President of the Association from 1953 through 1955. Among his many contributions to logic, the best known probably are the New Foundations system of set theory (1937) and his elegant writings on basic logic and its philosophy. He was also a major general philosopher, developing a naturalistic position with many ramifications, in particular his much discussed criticisms of the notion of analyticity and of other received notions concerning language and meaning. Of his many published books, the most widely known ones in which logic is central are: Mathematical Logic (1940, rev. ed. 1951); Methods of Logic (1950, 4th ed. 1982); From a Logical Point of View (1953); Word and Object (1960), probably his principal philosophical work; Set Theory and its Logic (1963, 2d ed. 1969); Ontological Relativity and other Essays (1969); and Philosophy of Logic (1970). Quine received many honors, in particular the first Rolf Schock Prize (Stockholm, 1993) and the Kyoto Prize (Tokyo, 1996).
- In Memoriam: Joseph R. Shoenfield. Joseph R. Shoenfield, Professor Emeritus of Mathematics at Duke University, died November 15, 2000 at the age of 73. He was President of the Association from 1972 through 1976. He also edited the Duke Mathematics Journal from 1961–70 and chaired the Duke Mathematics Department from 1970–73. His main research interests were in recursion theory, especially degrees of unsolvability and higher type recursion, but he worked in other areas of logic as well. In set theory, the Shoenfield Absoluteness Theorem plays a fundamental role and he formulated an extremely elegant version of Cohen’s forcing technology. He was a superb expositor, the author of the widely used and influential classic, Mathematical Logic (1967, in press to be reprinted by the ASL), Degrees of Unsolvability (1971), and Recursion Theory (Lecture Notes in Logic, 1) (1993).
- The 2000 ASL Election. The ASL membership elected Richard A. Shore (Cornell) as President, Penelope Maddy (UC Irvine) as Vice President, Sam Buss (UC San Diego) and Alexander Kechris (Caltech) to the Executive Committee, and Gordon D. Plotkin (Edinburgh) and Dag Westerståhl (Göteborg) to the Council. Their terms of office are for three years beginning January 1, 2001. The Nominating Committee consisted of Kevin Compton, Solomon Feferman, Carl Jockusch, Julia Knight, Alain Louveau, David Marker, Yiannis Moschovakis, Charles Parsons (Chair), Alasdair Urquhart, and Albert Visser.
- Shelah to share 2001 Wolf Foundation Prize. The Wolf Foundation announced on January 10th that Saharon Shelah, the Abraham Robinson Professor of Mathematical Logic at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem, will share the 2001 Wolf Foundation Prize in Mathematics with V. I. Arnold of the University of Paris-Dauphine. The foundation awards five prizes annually to outstanding living scientists in agriculture, chemistry, mathematics, medicine, and physics. Each award carries a $100,000 prize. Shelah was cited for his “contributions to mathematical logic and set theory.”

In November 2000, Shelah was awarded the János Bolyai International Mathematical Prize of the Hungarian Academy of Sciences, which includes an award of $25,000. Established in 1903 by the Hungarian Academy of Sciences in honor of János Bolyai, co-discoverer of non-Euclidean geometry, the prize was presented to H. Poincaré in 1905 and to D. Hilbert in 1910, after which various historical events, beginning with World War I, forced its interruption. The Academy decided to renew the award, and Shelah is the first recipient in modern times. In keeping with the original plan, the prize will be awarded every five years to the author of the best mathematical monograph containing original research that has been published in the previous ten years. The monograph for which Shelah received the award is Cardinal Arithmetic (1994).

- The 2000 Sacks Prize Awarded to E. Jaligot. The ASL Committee on Prizes and Awards has selected Eric Jaligot of the Université Claude Bernard (Lyon-1) as the recipient of the 2000 Sacks Prize. Jaligot received his Ph.D. in 1999 from the Institut Girard Desargues, Université Claude Bernard (Lyon-1), under the direction of Tuna Altinel and Bruno Poizat. His thesis concerns the Cherlin-Zil'ber Conjecture, which asserts that infinite simple groups of finite Morley rank are algebraic groups over algebraically closed fields. The prize consists of a cash award plus five years free membership in the ASL.
- JSTOR Access for ASL Members. Access to the full-text of The Journal of Symbolic Logic for the years 1936–1995 is available to all ASL members via JSTOR. - 2001-02 Winter Meeting (with AMS). January 8–9, 2002, San Diego, California. This meeting will take place in conjunction with the annual meeting of the American Mathematical Society, which will be held January 6–9, 2002.
- 2002 Spring Meeting (with APA). April 25–27, 2002, Chicago, Illinois. This meeting will take place in conjunction with the annual meeting of the Central Division of the American Philosophical Association.
- Rules for Abstracts. Please note that abstracts of contributed talks at ASL meetings (including those submitted “by title”) must follow these rules; abstracts which do not conform to these requirements will be returned immediately to the authors submitting them. Revised abstracts which do follow these rules will be considered if they are received by the announced deadline.

Abstracts of contributed talks are limited to 300 words (about three quarters of a page in the standard, 11pt L^AT_EX article style), including the title and other heading material and the references. They must be submitted in hard copy by ordinary mail or in a plain text email message. Electronically submitted abstracts should be either plain text or in PostScript format; special word processor files (MS-Word, WordPerfect, etc.) will not be accepted. Any abstract that is produced using TeX should be fully processed by the author and submitted as a PostScript file. Care should be taken that abstract files attached to an email message are included as plain text and not in some coded format. Authors typesetting abstracts are encouraged to use L^AT_EX and the ASL style file, which may be obtained at the ASL WWW site: <http://www.math.ucla.edu/~asl>.

To ensure accurate and timely typesetting: (1) Each abstract submission must include the complete address of at least one author, including an email address, or a statement that no email address is available. (2) Abstracts may not include drawings or footnotes. (3) The references must be complete: author, title, full name of journal, year, volume, page numbers; for a book, complete publisher data. Typesetting is done immediately after the submission deadline, so abstracts should be in final form when they are submitted. A typeset booklet containing the abstracts will be distributed to participants at the meeting. Galley proofs are given to authors at the time of the meeting or before, and must be corrected, approved, and returned immediately after receipt; no changes other than corrections of typesetting errors may be made.

For ASL meetings in North America, at least one author of each contributed abstract must be an ASL member; this does not apply to the ASL European Summer Meeting. Abstracts are published as part of the meeting report in The Bulletin of Symbolic Logic only if at least one author is a member of the ASL at the time the report is sent for publication. Each set of authors may submit only one abstract to each ASL meeting.
